

Tim Sullivan to join MCVB as Director - Government and Strategic Partnerships

For immediate release: 21 May 2007

Melbourne Convention + Visitors Bureau (MCVB) today announced the appointment of Tim Sullivan to the position of Director - Government and Strategic Partnerships.

MCVB's Chief Executive Officer, Sandra Chipchase said, "We are delighted to have Tim as a member of the Executive team. His extensive experience in conference management, event delivery, Ministerial and Government liaison, developing and assessing funding applications and contract management will be invaluable. We are extremely fortunate to have secured someone of Tim's calibre and experience in what will be a pivotal role at MCVB."

Tim has worked for the Victorian Department of Premier and Cabinet as the State's Manager of Special Events; as Executive Director of the Australia Day Committee (VIC); Manager of the Centenary of Federation (VIC); and was a Senior Account Executive with Conference Australia for many years.

Tim's current role is Manager Industry Marketing within the Business Development area of the Victoria Department of Innovation, Industry and Regional Development (DIIRD). He will join MCVB in July.

ENDS

For more information and a picture of Tim contact Zoë Shurgold on +613 9693 3317 or zoe.shurgold@mcvb.com.au

NOTES TO EDITORS

- Melbourne Convention + Visitors Bureau (MCVB) is a not for profit organisation that ensures Melbourne is recognised nationally and internationally as one of the world's best cities for hosting business events.